For those who live an environmentally sustainable life and prefer to leave the earth that way as well, a green funeral or natural burial may be the answer. A green funeral, or natural burial, ensures that you will return to the elements as naturally as possible. Interment can take place in a shroud, blanket, quilt or native biodegradable casket. No embalming. No manufactured caskets. No concrete vaults.

Some families may prefer a home funeral or a ceremony closer to home; others will opt for a graveside celebration of life. Some local churches may be accommodating to green funerals, which may be another option for the funeral ceremony.

Dancy Funeral Home is your 'natural' choice for green funerals in the North Jersey area. We have been recognized by the State of New Jersey as the 2007 Clean Energy Small Business of the Year for our use of solar electric and efforts in conservation education.

Robert Prout has been a voice for the environment for over thirty years, serving on the local Shade Tree Commission, state Conservation District and regional Scout ecology and camp committees.

Even if you already own an existing cemetery plot in a local cemetery, we can help you create a greener funeral service as a spiritually fulfilling alternative to the traditional funeral or cremation.

- ◆ Not included in these packages are the charges for certain cash disbursements such as certified copies of death certificates, actual clergy/celebrant/church/hall charges or the cost of the obituary/death notice or the cost of the final disposition including cemetery/scattering charges or any item not specifically listed.
- ◆ Payment in full is due at the time of arrangement. Cash, check or credit card payment is acceptable.

The following package is just one sample of many options that would be available to you. We can work with you to further customize a natural burial to meet the individual needs of your family.

GREENSPRINGS AND STEELMANTOWN NATURAL BURIAL CEMETERIES

For people who are mindful of the environmental impact of life, natural burial is a spiritually fulfilling alternative to the traditional funeral or cremation. Natural burial supports the belief that death nourishes life.

Greensprings Natural Burial Cemetery is located in Newfield, NY just south of Ithaca in the Finger Lakes region. Greensprings is a 100 acres of rolling hilltop meadows surrounded by 8,000 acres of state forest.

Steelmantown Cemetery is located in historic Cape May County, NJ. Nestled within massive trees and cedar bogs and surrounded by Belleplain State Forest, this 8.5 acre natural burial ground offers a true resting place within nature.

Native trees or shrubs mark gravesites and help restore the land to its natural state along with providing shelter and food for wildlife. Both Greensprings and Steelmantown Cemeteries offer a quiet, peaceful setting to experience the natural beauty of woods and fields . . . a legacy of enduring stewardship.

Steelmantown Cemetery is set in the quiet tranquility of the Pine Barrens.
